

Lincoln City's 19TH Annual Antique Week

Who is Harry Rinker?

Rinker hosted seventy-eight (78) half-hour episodes of Collector Inspector, a weekly show devoted to seeking out antiques and collectibles in private homes, on Home & Garden Television (HGTV). The show first aired on October 4, 2002, and was last broadcast on December 31, 2004. Rinker also appeared in two HGTV specials—2003 Endless Yard Sale (first aired on September 21, 2003) and Collectibles: Coast to Coast (first aired on March 20, 2004).

Rinker is a principal in Rinker Enterprises, Inc., a firm specializing in providing appraisal, consulting, editorial, educational, media, personal appearance, research, and writing services in the antiques and collectibles field. The company's headquarters is located in the former Vera Cruz (Pennsylvania) elementary school. In addition to a staff of qualified researchers, Rinker Enterprises draws regularly on the expertise of advisors located throughout the United States and Canada.
